Regina Santamäki Fischer, PhD, RN, Senior lecturer at the nursing program, at Åland University of Applied Science, and from August 2015 associated professor at the department of Caring Science, Åbo Academy, University in Vasa, Finland. She is also affiliated to the Department of Nursing, Umeå University in Sweden since 2008. Education: Nurse education 1976 and Healthcare nurse in 1980 from Finland, PhD in nursing 2007 from Umeå University, Sweden. Areas of teaching: Gerontological nursing, scientific methods. Research interests: Experiences of becoming and being very old. Inner strength and health related Quality of life and elderly women. Furthermore her interest is within Health technology, specifically how interactive distance services may support elderly people in their homes.

Publications.

